

PUI Assignment 6A

For the high-fi prototype, I added onto my original high-fi mockup. The new shopping cart page can be accessed by clicking on the shopping basket in the top right corner of the header.

I decided to go for a simple, receipt style basket which displays all necessary information about each item such as price, quantity, flavor, and glazing flavor. An edit button allows users to change aspects of their purchase if they wish. From the lofi to hifi prototype, I also added an x button to allow users to quickly remove an item from the cart if they wish. The total cost is displayed at the bottom as well as two buttons, one called "Continue Shopping" which returns the user to the menu when clicked. The other labeled "Checkout" would allow the user to proceed with the checkout process. Overall, I also made sure that the design of the basket page matched the aesthetics of the rest of the website, using similar spacing, color, and style conventions.
